

Homework

In your own words (with specific information) write a paragraph or two on the following topic. You will either defend or refute the statement and describe your position with specifics.

Statement: “ Every person’s past and future has been and will be clearly defined and shaped by their location”